On and after the main commencement date, every reference in any legislation and in any document to the Reserve Bank of New Zealand Act 1989 must, unless the context otherwise requires, be read as a reference to the Banking (Prudential Supervision) Act 1989.

3 Board under 1989 Act disestablished

- (1) On the main commencement date, the board of directors of the Bank under the 1989 Act is disestablished and each of those directors ceases to hold office.
- (2) A director of the Bank is not entitled to any compensation or other payment or benefit relating to their ceasing to hold office as a director.

4 Other officeholders

- (1) The person holding office as the Governor of the Reserve Bank immediately before the main commencement date—
 - (a) must be treated as continuing to hold that office for the balance of the term for which that person was appointed (and may be reappointed under section 82 for 1 further term of up to 5 years); and

- (2) The person holding office as the Deputy Governor of the Reserve Bank immediately before the main commencement date—
 - (a) ceases to hold that office on that date but must be treated on and after that date as being an employee of the Bank for a fixed term that is equal to the balance of the term for which that person was appointed as Deputy Governor; and

- (b) must be treated as continuing to hold office as an internal member of the MPC for the balance of the term for which that person was appointed as Deputy Governor (and may be reappointed under clause 17(1) of Schedule 3 for 2 further terms of up to 5 years); and
 - (c) is entitled to terms and conditions of employment no less favourable than the terms and conditions applying to the person immediately before the main commencement date.
- (3) Each person who holds office as an internal member or an external member of the MPC immediately before the main commencement date must be treated as continuing to hold that office for the balance of the term for which that person was appointed.
- (4) Subclauses (1) to (3) do not limit any provision of this Act under which a person referred to in those subclauses may be removed from office or under which that person otherwise ceases to hold office.

5 Governor's acts to have continuing effect

- (1) This clause applies in relation to a provision (provision A) in the 1989 Act or any other legislation—
 - (a) that imposes or confers a function or power on the Governor; and
 - (b) that—
 - (i) has been amended by this Act to impose or confer the function or power (or substantially the same function or power) on the Bank or the board; or

- (2) Unless the context otherwise requires, anything done by the Governor in the performance or exercise of a function or a power under provision A, and that is in effect immediately before the main commencement date, continues to have effect as if it had been performed or exercised by the Bank or the board under provision A (as amended) or provision B.

6 First notice of Minister's expectations under section 81

The Minister must give the first notice under section 81 as soon as practicable after the main commencement date.
